FOOD FOR THE WEEK

Reading 1 Job 7.1-4, 6-7

Responsorial Psalm Sing praises to the Lord who heals the brokenhearted.

Reading II 1 Corinthians 9.16-19, 22-23

Gospel Mark 1.29-39

In this time of his life Jesus seems busy with many people – his disciples, their families, and whole cities looking for him. Faith for him, as for us, is always in the midst of life, in the middle of the cares and concerns. It is amidst the difficulties and joys of ordinary life and with all the people who are part of our lives that our faith comes to life.

All this is part of prayer, as we pray with and for others. Who might come into your prayer now that you can talk to the Lord about?

PARISHIONERS QUESTIONS ABOUT THE REVISED ROMAN MISSAL

In response to questions from parishioners on the new translation of the Roman Missal, it was decided to repeat the article previously published in the bulletin, as follows:

The Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops (CCCB) has received recognition for all sections of the English translation of the revised Roman Missal for use in Canada. The Permanent Council has agreed that the first Sunday of Advent, November 27, 2011, will be the date for the implementation of the English translation of the Missal.

Why is the Catholic Church implementing a revised English translation of the Order of Mass? The words are being revised for two basic reasons. One is that the contents of the book that we have been calling the Sacramentary have been expanded. Such books are always published first in Latin, and then need to be translated into vernacular languages. Now that there is a third edition, the Sacramentary is out of date. More significantly, the Vatican has changed its theory of translation. It used to allow a free rendering of the words inspired by the idioms of the vernacular language. Now the Vatican is asking for a translation that adheres more closely to the original.

All of the changes to the Roman Missal are included in the Pew Cards purchased from Novalis and available at the entrance to the church. You can also find the changes in the "Living with Christ" Sunday Missals.

MARION BELL DEWAR

Recently on our Parish website, we received a request from a professor at Carleton University who is doing research for a book on Marion Bell Dewar. Marion, who was a native of Buckingham, was a very popular mayor of Ottawa for many years. She was also instrumental in bringing thousands of Vietnamese boat people to Canada. Parishioners will remember that during that period, our parish sponsored a Cambodian family. The professor, whose name is Deborah Gorham, would like to talk to anyone who may have known Marion and her family when they lived in Buckingham. If you knew the family or know someone who may have known them, could you please contact Bill Cameron at 819-986-8901.
