FOOD FOR THE WEEK

Reading 1
Responsorial Psalm
Reading II
Gospel

Isaiah 50.4-7
My God, My God, why have you forsaken me?
The Philippians 2.6-11
Luke 22 14-23.56

This hymn expresses the depth of the mystery – that Jesus' in most Nature was divine, but still he emptied himself and took on a human form. He entered our humanity completely.

Lord, lead me further into this mystery: today and in this week to come.

Update on Father Gyan's Health

Father Gyan has reported that things are continuing to go well and he will return as soon as possible. Please keep him in your prayers. In the meantime, we are fortunate to have Father Anthony with us.

The joy and sorrow of this day.

The triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem asks for loyalty and perseverance from each one of us, it calls us to deepen in our faithfulness, and for our resolutions to be more than just bright lights that sparkle for a moment and then fade away. There are some striking contrasts in the depths of our hearts, for we are capable of the very greatest things and also the very worst, and so if we wish to possess the divine life and triumph with Christ, we need to be constant and through penance deaden within us anything that separates us from God and prevents us from following Our Lord unto the Cross. The liturgy of Palm Sunday puts these words on our lips: 'Swing back, doors, higher yet; reach higher, immemorial gates, to let the king enter in triumph!'

Anyone who barricades himself in the citadel of his own selfishness will never come down onto the battlefield. But if he raises the gates of his fortress and lets in the king of peace, then he will go out with the king to fight against all that misery which blurs the eyes and numbs the conscience.

ARE YOU NEW TO OUR PARISH?

Welcome to all who want to make their faith home here! You may have come from other places. You may have been "away for a while". Be assured that we love to have you among us. We would appreciate it very much if you identified yourself at Mass. It would also help if you would take the time to fill out a registration form. The next time you are with us, you may leave it in the collection basket or give it to one of the ushers or to the priest. Welcome.
