Food for Thought
Reading I Responsorial Psalm Reading II Gospel	Exodus 34.4b-6, 8-9 Glory and praise forever! 2 Corinthians 13.11-13 John 3, 16-18 They looked down from heaven – the Father, Son and Holy Spirit – with love for her people for all of us. They could see men and women of all races, colours, ages, faiths. They could see their holiness and their sin. They knew help was needed for the human race and they waited a long time before the time was right. Prayer inserts us into our true space of belonging – into the community of the Trinity – and in that prayer we are called to bring this divine help to the human race.

WE ARE BACK IN ORDINARY TIME

The Church's year is made up of two high seasons (Lent-Easter and Advent-Christmas) and two blocks of what, in Church language, is called Ordinary Time. It is most noticeable in the changed décor of the church. The Easter banners have gone and on most Sundays, the priest wears green vestments. Some of the music which is integral to the Mass also tends to be different. We will be in that mode for a good stretch of time, basically until the Advent season begins, November 30, 2014.

Of course, there are always exceptions to the rule: this Sunday (Trinity Sunday) and next Sunday (Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ). The vestments are white to mark the two feasts that the Church observes on these Sundays. These two feasts could be seen as spin-offs from the enormous and foundational event we celebrate in the 50 days of Easter and for which we have been preparing in the 40-day Lenten season: the crucified Jesus being raised from the dead.

Trinity Sunday makes us focus on the source of that central mystery of our faith: the communion of life and love which is God: Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ makes us face the Mystery of the Eucharist where, ideally, we are formed as a communion which has its origin in the communion of God Father, Son and which is called to reflect that communion of Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

MONTHLY PRAYER INTENTIONS FROM THE BISHOP JUNE 2014 – THE UNEMPLOYED

That men and women who are unemployed may obtain work and support in order to live with dignity.

Reflection on Social Issues:

We are currently living with a political and economic system which pulls us around a vicious circle of back-to-back economic crises. Budgetary restrictions affect all our institutions, be they government, corporate or even ecclesial. Chronic unemployment begins to plague our society as more and more jobs are lost. How can we believers show our solidarity with the unemployed? What can we do to help our economy break out of this vicious circle so that each person may have his or her daily bread?

Our Faith Response:

The Church believes that the right to work is fundamental to each human being and that work contributes to the common good of both family and society. Pope Francis, in his promotion of a more just society, denounces the capitalist system as it is currently lived. This system has become the modern religion. The modern world of capitalism has chosen money as its task-master. The Pope views this as the new golden calf.

Question we need to ask ourselves:

How do I best encounter the face of God today by helping someone find a job?
