FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Reading 1 Revelation 7.2-4, 9-14
Responsorial Psalm Lord, this is the company of those who seek your face
Reading II 1 John 3.1-3
Gospel Matthew 5.1-12a

The Jewish lawyers were blamed for multiplying regulations, but they also like to seek out the essentials of the law, to give the whole of their religion in one sound-bite. The rabbi Hillel was once asked to instruct someone in the whole law while he stood on one leg.

Jesus takes the lawyer's question seriously and points us to an interior religion, one of the heart not of rule keeping or ritual.

THE BOOK OF LIFE

The month of November is a special month for praying for the faithful departed with whom we are in the same Communion of the Saints. We are therefore encouraged to keep them in our prayers and if possible offer Masses on their behalf.

In our two parishes, we have a tradition of leaving our Book of Life at the front of the church for the month of November. The Book of Life contains the names of deceased parishioners and relatives. Some blank pages can be found in the front for anyone who wants to add names and comments. It is our way of expressing our faith that the dead find peace with God and will be raised to life when the Lord Jesus comes in glory.

The families who lost someone in the past year are:

MONTHLY PRAYER INTENTIONS FROM THE ARCHBISHOP - NOVEMBER 2015

"So that we open ourselves up to personal encounters and dialogue with others, even those who have different beliefs than ours."

Social reflection: In the 1960s and 1970s, Herbert Marshall McLuhan, a Canadian teacher of Sociology (Studies in Communication) talked about the "global village". Today in the era of the Internet, Facebook, Twitter, etc., we are living in this "global village", where many cultures coexist. Sometimes, these interactions with different cultures may lead to culture shock and misunderstandings. Sometimes, a certain malaise settles itself into the relationship. What must we do in order to fully live inter culturalism in our parish, our town and our country? And why not accommodate (view) our differences as complementary?

Answering our faith: Our Christian faith calls us to fully live the inclusion with people from different cultures. Jesus' message is centered upon meeting others, and seeing the other person as he or she is. Saint John describes the meeting between Jesus and the Samaritan woman (Jn 4, 1-42); from this unexpected meeting between a man and a woman, and between two cultures, life emerged. As a community, how can we include people from different cultures into our celebrations, and into the life of our parish? Maybe these cultural exchanges will bring new life to our community?

Questioning Ourselves Sunday, November 1st, 2015: I search for the meaning of the word "inter culturalism" and reflect on it.

This December, world leaders will gather in Paris for the United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP21), to negotiate a new international agreement that will determine the future of the world's climate. Pope Francis, through his encyclical Laudato Si, has chosen this crucial year to call on every living person to act on climate change and protect our common home.

Be a part of this global movement to protect the Earth! Join Development and Peace and people around the world who care about our planet and the world's people by taking action on climate change. Let's stand with Pope Francis and protect our common home. Together, we can achieve climate justice!

Let's sign the Action Card and make a commitment to reduce our carbon footprint, and also call on the Canadian government to ensure that Canada does more to reduce the impact of climate change on vulnerable communities living in the Global South. Action Cards will be available for the next couple of weeks.
