Reading II Hebrews 10.11-14, 18
Gospel Mark 13.24-32

It is good to find something in life that cannot pass away. We want that; we want it in love, in our friendships, and in our trusting in the future.

The word of God spoken in love, always a light in life, will never pass away. Prayer is our inserting of ourselves into the reality of that Word and that love.

MONTHLY PRAYER INTENTIONS FROM THE ARCHBISHOP - NOVEMBER , 2015

Sunday, November 15th, 2015: Given my Christian faith, how do I react and talk with people who do not share my faith: Muslims, Jews or the people who do not share the same confession: Evangelicals, Protestant.

A Sunday Reflection

This Sunday is the second to last Sunday of our liturgical year. As we approach the end of the Church year, our Gospel invites us to consider Jesus' predictions and teaching about the end of the world. In the context of Mark's Gospel, Jesus' words about this are spoken to his disciples as he prepares them for his passion and death.

Last Sunday we heard Jesus' observation about the contributions being made to the temple treasury and the example of sacrificial giving that he saw in the poor widow's offering. If we had been reading Mark's Gospel continuously, we would have heard Jesus predict the destruction of the Temple, his teaching about the costs of discipleship, and the woes that will accompany the end times. Finally, we would have heard Jesus instruct his disciples about the need for watchfulness so that they will not be caught unprepared for this final day of judgment.

In today's Gospel, Jesus continues this teaching by offering his disciples signs to look for that will indicate that the coming of the Son of Man is near. Jesus' words are not spoken to frighten his disciples, nor should they frighten us. Rather, they are offered to prepare us for the changes we will experience during our lifetimes and at the end of times.
