FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Reading 1 Wisdom 9.13-18
Responsorial Psalm Lord, you have been our dwelling place in all generations.
Reading II Philemon 9-10, 12-17
Gospel Luke 14.25-33

Lord, as you spoke, you were on your way to Jerusalem and the passion. The cross was not a little ornament to wear round the neck, but a terrifying symbol of evil, torture and death.

There may be feel-good times in my piety, but I must be ready for the feel-fear times, too, when I join you in your darkest hour.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S MONTHLY PRAYER INTENTIONS: SEPTEMBER 2016

“So that Christians, by participating in the Sacraments, and by meditating on the Scriptures, become increasingly aware of their mission of evangelization.”

Social Reflection: Many people try to make the world a better place. In August 2016, more than 20,000 people gathered in Montreal for the World Social Forum, in the hopes of building a world that would be socially more just. Depending on our values, we may or may not support a certain government, political party, social group or charity. Our motivation is always to work for the common good.

Answering our Faith: Our religious practice strengthens us to become better people in everyday life. In our daily lives, we are invited to bear witness to a message of hope. The latter leads us towards justice, peace and the common good. Saint Paul once said; “For the Kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking, but of righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.” (Rm14, 17). So to evangelize, our testimony must also be reflected in our actions. At the beginning of the pastoral year, how can our pastoral project be put in action so that it serves justice, peace, and the common good?

Questioning ourselves: Sunday, September 4, 2016: This weekend, I reflect on our relationship with the labour market. Is minimum wage morally just, when seen through the optics of the common good?
